

CASH FLOW & LIVING ARRANGEMENTS ISSUES	YES	NO	ESTATE PLANNING ISSUES (CONTINUED)	YES	NO
 Do your parents need assistance in managing their bills? Could there be sources of income that you are unaware of? Is a plan needed to deal with a potential illness or reduced mobility? If so, consider researching who can assist your parent(s) in developing a plan. 			 If your parents have trusts, consider whether lifetime conveyances of certain assets would be helpful (e.g. in the event of incapacity or in order to avoid probate). Will your parents need long-term care in a nursing home or home health care? If so, consider the financial impact it will have on cash flow and assets. Consider Medicaid planning and reverse mortgages.
 Are your parents unable to live on their own? If so, consider the following: Your parents' home can be modified so care can be provided there. Home caregivers may help with many common household tasks. Your parents may be able to move in with a loved one. 			Will a parent's individual estate exceed $11,580,000 or will your parents' combined estate exceed $23,160,000? If so, consider strategies to plan for a possible federal estate tax liability.
 Four parents may be able to move in with a loved one. Professional geriatric care managers may be able to provide assistance. Consider continuing care retirement communities as an alternative living option. 			Do your parents own multiple properties? Ensure that residency is clear for probate purposes and to avoid the potential for probate occurring in multiple states (e.g. with TOD titling, or transfer to a revocable living trust, etc.).

Some financial institutions will not honor Powers of Attorney that are from out of state or are more than three to five years old.			INSURANCE ISSUES	YES	NO
If your parents will not be subject to estate taxes, but still have AB trusts, revisit the need for the trusts and/or review the funding formula given higher estate exemptions and potential for step-up in basis planning.
